Share With Peers

If you have a project that you feel has made a significant improvement, or an innovation you'd like to share with your peers, now is the time to submit an abstract to the ICWMM. Don't miss the chance to showcase your best project!

Acceptance will be intimated promptly and formatting instructions for the final paper will be emailed to the authors. Accepted abstracts will be published in the conference program. Conference papers are welcome to be submitted to the Journal of Water Management Modeling.

SUGGESTED TOPICS

- 1D, 2D, 3D surface water and/or integrated groundwater modeling
- Water distribution system vulnerability/risk, rehabilitation and management modeling
- Green infrastructure (LIDs, SuDS), wetlands, and agricultural BMPs
- Calibration, optimization and error analysis (genetic algorithms and neural networks)
- Flood forecasting, flood risk assessment, floodplain mapping and decision support systems
- Greywater system optimization and water conservation
- Water quality analyses and pollution management modeling, including SSOs, CSOs and TMDLs
- Restoration and rehabilitation of watercourses, wetlands and lakes
- Stormwater / pollution management modeling
- Urban drainage system (storm and wastewater) design and analysis
- Calibration, optimization and error analysis (genetic algorithms and neural networks)
- Field data monitoring and instrumentation
- Climate change and system security
- Policy, legislation, permitting and enforcement

Open Access

The JWMM is an open access publication, and all papers are published using a Creative Commons CC-BY 4.0 DEED License, where authors retain their copyright, and papers are available for free to all.

There are no fees charged to publish in the JWMM.

Submission Process

1. SUBMIT YOUR NOTICE OF INTENT

Email your Notice of Intent to submit an abstract. Include the title/topic, a brief outline (if possible), and authors' names and contact information. Please indicate which author(s) will be presenting. We will contact authors to submit an abstract. If possible, notices of intent should be submitted by December 31, 2024.

2. SUBMIT YOUR ABSTRACT

Email your Abstract. Abstracts should describe the presentation of your paper in approximately 300 words. We will accept abstracts until the program is full but, if possible, would like abstracts submitted by February 1, 2025.

3. FORMAT YOUR PAPER

Final papers should be no longer than 25 pages. For a paper template (in Microsoft Word format), formatting instructions, unit conversion tables, author checklist and more, visit our For Authors page on the Journal of Water Management Modeling site.

4. SUBMIT YOUR PAPER

Submit your paper for publication anytime through the JWMM Management Site. If it is your first time submitting a paper through the submission site, you must first register to create an account.
